Course Description

The Westchester Cardiovascular Symposium is a 2.5-day conference that will address current, controversial, and challenging issues in the fields of heart failure, valvular heart disease, ischemic heart disease, cardiac electrophysiology, and hypertrophic cardiomyopathy. The hypertrophic cardiomyopathy session will be open to patients and interested members of the community, in addition to physicians and health care professionals, and highlights the acquisition of this new program.

This annual update includes a review of clinical guidelines, disease condition and natural history, diagnostic modalities, current treatment and future therapies pertaining to the fields. Attendees will be able to broaden their understanding of disease processes, patient screening and evaluation, diagnostic workup and treatment advances in the field. The faculty consists of leading experts in the field of cardiovascular medicine from around the country, chosen specifically for the individual topics. Presentations are made in both didactic and interactive fashions, including live debates and case discussions.

The symposium provides an annual opportunity for health professionals to update their knowledge and clinical practice of ischemic heart disease, heart failure, valvular heart disease, cardiac electrophysiology, and hypertrophic cardiomyopathy. Topics include the latest clinical guidelines, echo and CT imaging, surgical and catheter-based treatment, and future technologies.

Learning Objectives

This symposium has two primary objectives: to provide an educational platform on heart failure, ischemic heart disease, valvular heart disease, cardiac electrophysiology and hypertrophic cardiomyopathy in a comprehensive program that includes interactive discussions and case presentations offered by experts in the field, and to provide an opportunity for health professionals in the New York Hudson Valley region to network and exchange ideas on patient management and clinical practice. The hypertrophic cardiomyopathy session also provides an opportunity for patient and community education and interaction. Upon completion of the CME activity, participants will be able to:

- Understand the importance of certain interventions in the timely delivery of the best care for patients with ST segment elevation myocardial infarction (STEMI). Utilize the most appropriate antithrombotic treatments for ACS patients destined to undergo CABG, PCI, or noninvasive medical therapy.
- Recognize the new developments and the increasing role of mechanical assist devices in the treatment of patients with advanced heart failure. Accordingly, select appropriate patients who may benefit from the implementation of this therapy.
- Understand the importance of certain interventions in the prevention of ischemic heart disease, including the treatment of hypertension and hypercholesterolemia. Utilize the most appropriate antiplatelet agents for patients with stable and unstable coronary artery disease.
- Recognize new developments in technologies and approaches to revascularization for patients with complex coronary artery disease, including chronic total occlusions and left main disease.

- Understand the pathophysiology of cardiac arrhythmias underlying various diagnoses including different etiologies of cardiomyopathy, atrial fibrillation, complete heart block, syncope, and sudden cardiac death. .
- Understand current diagnosis and management modalities in hypertrophic cardiomyopathy, including advanced imaging, electrophysiology devices, surgery and alcohol septal ablation, and a review of national guidelines, and define roles for community screening to prevent sudden cardiac death in children and adults. Understand future therapies including novel pharmacotherapy and gene-based individualized therapy.

Target Audience

This educational program is designed for physicians including cardiovascular specialists, internists, primary care practitioners, nurse practitioners, nurses, physician assistants, technicians and other health professionals involved in the evaluation, diagnosis and management of patients with ischemic heart disease, heart failure, valvular heart disease, cardiac arrhythmias and hypertrophic cardiomyopathy. The hypertrophic cardiomyopathy session is also designed for patients with this disease, family members, and members of the wider community interested in this disease.

CME Accreditation Statement

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Accreditation Requirements and Policies of the Medical Society of the State of New York (MSSNY) through the joint providership of the Westchester Academy of Medicine and Westchester Medical Center Health. The Westchester Academy of Medicine is accredited by MSSNY to provide Continuing Medical Education for physicians.

The Westchester Academy of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 17 AMA PRA Category I Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

CNE Accreditation Statement

This activity has been submitted to the Emergency Nurses Association for approval to award contact hours. The Emergency Nurses Association is accredited as an approver of continuing nursing education by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.

ABIM MOC Recognition Statement

Successful completion of this CME activity, which includes participation in the evaluation component, enables the participant to earn up to 17 Medical Knowledge MOC points in the American Board of Internal Medicine's (ABIM) Maintenance of Certification (MOC) program. Participants will earn MOC points equivalent to the amount of the CME credits claimed for the activity. It is the CME activity provider's responsibility to submit participant completion information to ACCME for the purpose of granting ABIM MOC credit.
