ADVANCING CARE. HERE.
We are delighted that the beauty and abundance of the Spring and Summer months are upon us and grateful that we have stayed connected over the winter months, in spite of the pandemic. Thank you for participating in our many groups and programs…. you have been a wonderful support to one another and we have been privileged to be part of your lives.

There are a few changes at OSP – some new beginnings and some sad endings as life would have it. We are delighted that our former intern, Catherine Gleason, now brings her up-beat spirit to OSP as a per diem social worker. Our dear Elise Lark, who has been with OSP for over 15 years, is leaving her position in order to focus on opening Jim and Lisa’s Circle Home, a comfort home for the dying in Kingston. Elise’s compassion, depth of understanding and commitment are immeasurable; we are grateful for her work over the years and know she will continue to be an asset to our community. We also say a fond farewell to our Social Work Intern, Carla Steckman, and wish her the best as she moves on in her career.

In addition to our ongoing support groups, wellness programs and healing arts classes, we have some informative presentations coming down the pike so please check out our newsletter. A few highlights are a talk on novel treatments for GI and Pancreatic Cancer, a presentation on Cancer and Genetics, a program on Visualization for Change and more!

We are also excited to host our 22nd Annual Cancer Survivors Event at the Robert Post Park on the Hudson River, the evening of June 3rd. Hopefully many of you will feel safe enough to gather in an outdoor setting amidst the beauty of the river and enjoy the magic of one another’s presence. Hope you can join us.

— Wishing you all safety, health and peace. Looking forward to staying connected,
Ellen Marshall, MS., LCSW-R, OSW-C, Director of the Oncology Support Program

OSP Welcomes Catherine Gleason!

During the course of my career, my internship at OSP ten years ago always stood out. This program helps people during a time in life when support, resources, and a positive outlook are much needed. I have had an eclectic background in law, business, and other industries and obtained my doctorate degree in Social Work from Albany University’s School of Social Welfare. My passion to empower individuals and communities during traumatic and stressful times is deepened by the insights gained through serving the public for over a quarter century. I am delighted to have this opportunity to re-join OSP as a per-diem Social Worker to support people whose lives are affected by cancer. I look forward to meeting you.

~ Catherine Gleason, PhD, LMSW

Coping Skills for Cancer: Finding Ease & Inner Balance
Whether we are newly diagnosed with cancer, a long-term cancer survivor or a caregiver, a cancer diagnosis can be overwhelming. In this group, we will explore practical skills to help us regulate our nervous system and find inner balance as we face cancer-related stressors, from anxiety related to medical procedures to fear of recurrence. This group integrates techniques of somatic experiencing, yoga breathing practices and mindfulness.
Facilitated by Ellen Marshall, LCSW-R, OSW-C & Sarah Loughlin, MHC
1st Tuesdays, 11:00 a.m.—12:30 p.m.
May 3, Jun. 7, Jul. 5 & Aug. 2

KID/TEEN/FAMILY Connection
Children or teens may be confused, angry or sad when someone they love is diagnosed with cancer. How do we speak to our children or teens about a cancer diagnosis in age-appropriate ways?
If you know a child or teen in need of support or would like to meet with an OSP Social Worker to discuss communicating about cancer, please call OSP at (845) 339-2071.
Elise Lark bids farewell after 15 years at OSP

“Well, while I'm here I'll do the work — and what's the work?
To ease the pain of living [and dying]. ~ Allen Ginsberg

Precious people, precious memories. Fifteen years of faces I have come to know, some ever-smiling at me from my bulletin board; faces unmasked by illness and the simple love of life; faces made familiar, enlivened by the bare essentials: trust, friendship, care. Looking around my desk at OSP, I am surrounded by keepsakes: photos, postcards and yellow sticky notes reminding me:

LOVE; BREATHE; SLOW DOWN & LISTEN; EVERYTHING CHANGES...

Among the many life-changing lessons during my stint here, I have learned that while most people say they prefer to die in their own home, not every person or family has the resources to carry forth a home death, and there are no local non-institutional alternatives. This moral conundrum compelled me to return to school, engage in research, and to take action, including by starting the nonprofit Circle of Friends for the Dying. It was easy to rope in Barbara Sarah, Founder of OSP and the Cancer Support House. Together, we attracted other dedicated people to join us in the vision of creating another kind of support house: a community-supported comfort home for the dying. Jim & Lisa’s Circle Home will be the first of its kind in the Mid-Hudson Valley. This special care model recognizes and celebrates the inherent value of death within everyday life; reframes dying as primarily a social rather than medical experience; returns dying and care of the dying back into the hands of skilled laypersons, family, and community; and restores familiarity and instills confidence in the capacity of ordinary folks to care for one another at the end of life.

Over these years, I have had the opportunity to practice saying goodbye, as recommended by Stephen Levine, and learned that we don’t have to wait until our final moments to benefit from doing so. In fact, practicing saying goodbye—as if it is the last time—before there is cause to do so, is life and relationship enhancing. May I encourage you to try it? Just sit in a quiet room across from an empty chair and imagine a person you care about occupying the seat. Now, say whatever you truly wish for that person to know. Keep it simple. Speak from the heart. I promise you it will open your heart as being with you has opened mine.

— Elise Lark

Inpatient Palliative Care Support

If you or your loved one is in the hospital and suffering with distress or pain, ask your nurse for a palliative care consult. Dr. Maggie Carpenter is available for palliative care consults in the hospital setting. OSP social workers can also be consulted to help you learn ways to manage your symptoms through integrative techniques, help you communicate your needs and wishes to the medical staff and/or assist you in connecting with a palliative care physician in the community upon discharge.

Outpatient Community-Based Palliative Care

Community-based palliative care is appropriate for patients with serious or life-limiting illnesses, no matter their prognosis. This type of care focusses on providing relief from the symptoms and stress of the illness, with the goal of improving quality of life for the patient and the family. Palliative care can be provided at the same time as curative and aggressive treatment at any stage of illness.

Hudson Valley Medical Health Choices, P.C.
Community palliative care provides services in the home, an assisted living facility, a nursing home, or wherever a person calls home. Affiliated with Hudson Valley Hospice. For information, call: (845) 240-7557 or go to: https://www hvhosspice.org/palliative-care

Nightingale Medical – Dr. Maggie Carpenter
Community palliative care provides patients and their families with peace of mind and an extra layer of support for managing symptoms of advanced illness. For information, call: (845) 633-8122 or go to: https://www.nightingalemedical.org
Integrative Cancer Support and Educational Group
Participants share resources and experiences with integrative modalities and learn from guest speakers.
Facilitated by Tara Ryan and OSP Director, Ellen Marshall.
Tara is a Cancer Hope Coach who has considerable experience with conventional and integrative treatments along with immunotherapy for the treatment of metastatic melanoma.
These programs are offered virtually. If you are interested in attending and receiving the remote link, please contact OSP at (845) 339-2071 or email: oncology.support@hahv.org

Pancreatic and Gastrointestinal Cancers: New Horizons-New Hope with Dr. Gulam Manji, MD., PhD
Wed. May 11, 5:30-6:30 p.m.

Dr. Gulam Manji is the Director of Pancreas Medical Oncology and Translational Research at the Pancreas Center, Columbia University Irving Medical Center-New York Presbyterian Hospital, New York, where he is also an Assistant Professor within the Division of Hematology and Oncology. Dr. Manji is an R01 funded physician-scientist whose research interest focuses on investigating immunosuppressive pathways within the tumor microenvironment and translating promising treatments to the clinic.

Dr. Manji oversees the clinical trials program within GI Medical Oncology and is the Principal Investigator of four multicenter investigator-initiated clinical trials. He also conducts translational research in his laboratory studying interactions between neoplastic and immune cells using multiplex immunofluorescence and an autologous co-culture model using patient derived tumor organoids. His efforts in the laboratory on the CXCR4-CXCL12 pathway led to him being awarded the ASCO Young investigator Award (2015) and the results were translated to an ongoing investigator-initiated clinical trial in pancreas cancer. He is an active member of the ALLIANCE GI Committee, NCI Pancreas Task Force, and the ALLIANCE Pancreas Working Group, and has published numerous peer reviewed manuscripts.
We are honored to have Dr. Manji share his knowledge with our community.

Vitamin V—Visualization for Change with Ajamu Ayinde, MA., A.C.H.
Wed. June 8, 5:30-6:30 p.m.

Life balance is difficult to achieve when burdened by pain and/or stress related to a cancer diagnosis. Studies have shown that hypnotherapy is one of the most powerful ways to manage pain and stress, find rest, health recovery, and vitality. For optimal health, balance must be sought on physical, mental, cultural, and spiritual levels. Through imagery, suggestion and relaxation, people can achieve a quicker and fuller recovery from health challenges.

In this workshop Ajamu Ayinde will explore the Four Tiers of Vitamin V: (1) Eliminate fears and create hope and optimism (2) Create a new attitude (3) Deal with the side effects of conventional treatment (4) Develop cancer elimination imagery.

Ajamu James Ayinde, M.A., A.C.H. is a Certified Medical Hypnotherapist and Master Mental Coach with advanced training in pain management and catastrophic illnesses. He received his certification as a Master Practitioner of Neuro-Linguistic Programming. Ajamu was the 2004 International Association of Counselors and Therapists (IACT) Therapist of the Year. His work has been featured in local and national newspapers, magazines, internet radio, and cable television. He was the subject of a documentary film by History on Video which showcased African Americans in the field of holistic medicine. One of his specialties is psycho-oncology. For more information, go to: https://ajamuayinde.com/

The Integrative Support and Educational Group will be taking a break for the summer months. See you in September for more wonderful programs.

OSP’s Linda Young Ovarian Cancer Support Program is committed to educating the community about early detection of ovarian cancer.

Know the symptoms:
- Bloating
- Pelvic or abdominal pain
- Difficulty eating or feeling full quickly
- Urinary symptoms (urgency or frequency)

Other symptoms may include: fatigue, indigestion, back pain, constipation, pain with intercourse, menstrual irregularities.

Know what to do:
If you have these symptoms almost daily for more than two weeks or have symptoms that are unusual for your body, see your gynecologist. Experts recommend a pelvic/rectal exam, a CA-125 blood test and a transvaginal ultrasound. If ovarian cancer is suspected, seek out a gynecologic oncologist.

SHARSHERET® Special Program offered by Sharsheret, co-sponsored by the Jewish Federation of Ulster County:

What You Should Know About Hereditary Cancer
Peggy Cottrell, MS, LCGC (Licensed & Board Certified Genetic Counselor)
Thursday, May 26 at 7 p.m. (virtual)

Sharsheret is a national non-profit organization dedicated to improving the lives of Jewish women and families living with, or at increased genetic risk, for breast or ovarian cancer. It is also committed to saving lives through educational outreach. While Sharsheret’s expertise is in young women and Jewish families as related to breast cancer and ovarian cancer, Sharsheret programs serve all women and men.

Sharsheret’s Genetics for Life program offers education about hereditary cancer. This is a particular concern in the Ashkenazi Jewish population, as 1 in 40 individuals carry a mutation that can predispose not only to breast and ovarian cancer, but also to male breast, prostate, and pancreatic cancer.

In this program, Peggy will explain how genetic information can help people make choices about their healthcare and reduce their risk of dying from cancer. The program will explore some of the other types of hereditary cancer that can be identified with testing. Peggy will discuss how genetic testing has evolved over the years and whether some individuals might benefit from an updated test. Information will be given to help people determine how to get an affordable cancer genetics test.

For more information about Sharsheret, go to: https://sharsheret.org/

Creative Summer Cooking with Bettina Zumdick
Tues. May 17 at 11:30am –1:00 p.m.

The farmers markets will open soon with early greens along with other components of lighter meals. Summer classes may feature a light salad with dressing, a refreshing soup, select farm market vegetables and other possible dishes. A final menu will feature seasonal choices along with recipes. Bettina will narrate as she prepares the meal with opportunity for question and answers during and after the cooking segment. Sadly, we will not be sampling the dishes, but we will have a chance to connect and learn together.

Bettina Zumdick is a chef, teacher, counselor and author who has integrated modern knowledge of the West with the wisdom of the East. With a strong background in Food Science and Nutrition from Wilhelm’s University in Munster, Germany, she has shared her knowledge of food medicine for over 30 years. She is a co-director of Planetary Health, an educational not-for-profit that offers weekend retreats and an annual conference. For more information about Bettina or to view a listing of her own class offerings go to: www.culinarymedicineschool.com

The Miso Happy Cooking Club will be taking a summer break. We look forward to reconnecting in the Fall. — Kathy Sheldon.

Nurturing Neighborhood Network

Are you facing a cancer diagnosis? Would you benefit from one-on-one support from someone who’s been through it?

You might like to be matched with a Nurturing Neighbor, a local volunteer and cancer survivor trained through OSP to offer peer support.

For further information on linking with a Nurturing Neighbor or becoming one yourself, please contact OSP at (845) 339-2071 at ext. 100 or email: oncolo-

CANCER & FINANCE

Need help applying for Disability, setting up a Pooled Trust to become eligible for Medicaid or learning about returning to work when on Disability?

Meet with Debbie Denise of the Resource Center for Accessible Living at the Reuner Cancer Support House for individualized support and to have your questions answered.

May 4, June 1 and July 6

To schedule an appointment with Debbie Denise, please call OSP at (845) 339-2071 or call RCAL at (845) 331-0541.

DONATIONS

Ulster County Jewish Federation Fall for Art

Thanks to those who have donated wigs, scarves, hats, blankets and more.

The Oncology Support Program has a supply of wigs available free of charge. If you would like to schedule an appointment to find a wig that best suits you, please call OSP at (845) 339-2071.

Special Thanks to our Volunteers:

Abigail Thomas, Craig Mawhirt, Kathy Sheldon, Marilyn Fino, Bev Nielsen, Mare Berman, Tara Ryan, Barbara Sarah, Betty Gilpatric, Annie LaBarge, Marianne Neifeld, Bettina Zumdick, Sara Loughlin, James Askin, Chris Parrow, Isolde Arzt, Puja Thomson, Dr. Heidi Puc, Sue Van Hook, Debbie Denise, Sister Dorothy Huggard, Matt Corsaro, our Nurturing Neighbors and other fabulous volunteers.

Financially Support the Oncology Program All Year Round!

At the Oncology Support program, our services are free or available at a very low fee. This is possible thanks to the support of WMC/HealthAlliance as well as donations from the community. Your donations also enable us to provide emergency financial assistance to those in need. Please help us continue to support people affected by cancer by making a tax-deductible donation to OSP or the Linda Young Ovarian Cancer Support Program.

Your donation will be acknowledged in the next edition of Celebrate Life! You can donate electronically by visiting: https://www.foundationupdate.org/donate/oncologysupportprogram/or... Make checks payable to: The HealthAlliance Foundation (Indicate OSP or LY in memo)
Mail check to: Oncology Support Program, 105 Mary’s Ave. Kingston, NY 12401
